SPRINGER, a Democratic Representative from Indiana, effected a most magaificent rout of the Republicans in the House last week. The Republicans under the masterly lend of James G. Blaine had been introducing resolutions and calling for the ayes and nays and compelling their Democratic colon dispated questions. This was merely making campaign material for next year and it must be confessed that they handled their opponents in a lively and, from a Democratic standpoint, a most disgusting manner. But they did not hold the reins. They were simply getting the first chance in a game that two could play at and the reckoning was at hand. The Democrats are said to have been confused and somewhat exasperated, when Springer gained the tion, shut off debate and forced a downright vote on the third term. His resolution was, "Resolved, That in the opinion of this House the precedent established by Washing and other Presidents of the United States, in retiring from the Presidential office after their second term has become, by universal that any departure from this timehonored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic, and frought with peril to our institutions." The executive officers of the State have hereid fore resolved to look to the resources of the State for the pay ment of the interest on the public debt, and not to a further loan. The article enclosed by yourself neezer, one day last week, and was assumes that the resources derived rom taxable property, amounting to $300,000,000 was dedicated to the payment of the interest on the State debt, and that "the Legislature had provided Treasury warrants to pay the floating debt." Neither assumption is true. A tax of four mills was levied by the State to pay all expenses, and subsequently the Legislature provided for the issuance of treasury warrants, receivable in payment for all dues to the State, limited to $500,-000 at a time to be issued for current expenses only.
